Happy Halloween

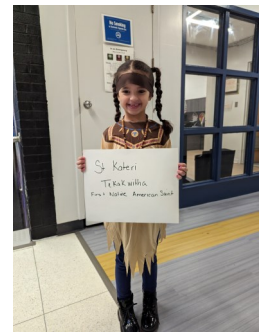

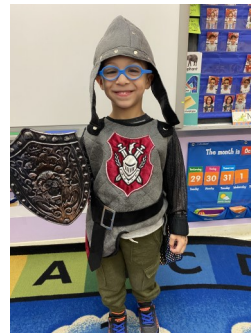

Here at St. Mel's Catholic Academy, not only do our students get into the spirit of Halloween, but they also get into the spirit of All Saint's Day. On Halloween, they may have dressed as a ghouel or goblin, but on All Saint's day, they dressed as a saint, either one they admired, or their patron saint. In today's society, children tend to look towards celebrities and social media "influencers" as role models but in our Catholic faith, we only need to look to the saints as role models. They lived just like us, they weren't perfect, they sinned as we sometimes do, yet because of their faith and love of God and humankind, they left the world a better place. They are the true "influencers".

"I am not a saint, unless you think of a saint as a sinner who keeps on trying" - Nelson Mandela
