100 Days of School

At first I thought some of our students may have stepped into a time machine over the weekend as they came to school on Monday looking quite a bit older and wiser. Then I remembered, it's the 100th day of school!!!! PHEW! It is hard to believe that we have already been in school for 100 days. Our kids may be 100 days older but they are also 100 days smarter. They have had 100 days of learning, fun, friendship and making memories. While we only have 180 days together in the school year, let's hope that the next 80 are just as special and productive as the first 100. Boys and girls, while you looked adorably "old" today, don't be in a rush to grow up, cherish each and every day.

100TH DAY CELEBRATIONS

Happy Valentine's Day!

Valentine's day is the feast day of St. Valentine. It is widely believed that he was a Roman priest who was imprisoned for marrying Christian couples and eventually martyred. Because of this, he is known as the patron saint of love, couples and happy marriages. This year Valentine's Day also falls of Ash Wednesday, when as Catholics we begin the season of Lent. Lent is a time of fasting and sacrifice as we remember the how Jesus Christ sacrificed his life for our salvation. While we may indulge in treats this Valentine's Day, let us also honor the solemnity of Ash Wednesday.
